Andy Penkow – Pretty Pety Problems

Self-produced, with the help of creative Rip-Van Parks, mixed/mastered by the talented James North at North Productions, and co-written with country legend Allan Casswell, “Pretty Pety Problems” is Andy’s latest single that delves into the world of social media and the impacts of online trolling, in a short, sharp and whimsical manner.

Speaking about the single, Andy said: “We live in a day and age where social media has become an important facet of daily life; a platform at our finger tips that many rely on to be informed of breaking news, read the latest gossip, and keep family, friends and followers updated on past, present or upcoming events. However, it can also be quite a cruel place where online trolling is an unavoidable and often regular occurrence.

“People can say some pretty hurtful things online without fear of consequence but at the end of the day, words are just that, words, and we can choose to let those words sink in and affect our lives, or we can choose to laugh it off. I choose the latter and hope others can do too.”
