Shaza Leigh – How We Love Before We Leave

Shaza Leigh is one of Australia's most gifted country music identities. Few people share diverse talents at an elite level like Shaza and she has just been totally shocked by another outstanding achievement, crowned the current International Female "Producer of the Year" at the 2023 FPCM Awards in Europe.

This award incorporates other major LBS artist productions and includes several pre-released, award-winning hit singles, from her own new album "Blessings".

Shaza is a Multi-award winning Singer, having just released her 16th career album, a prolific songwriter, renowned as "Australia's First Lady Of Song" with hundreds of award winning songs published and an established business executive, whom alongside business partner/husband, Lindsay Butler OAM, has established the infamous LBS Music Group. Shaza has been managing partner of the company and all business interests from marketing, touring, artist development to recording studios, radio stations and venues for almost 30 years. She is an astute business woman with a passion for everything and every person worthy of gaining her attention and an undeniable desire to produce music with messages of substance.

Shaza is amazingly grounded and down to earth and when asked the key to her success, she pays credit to her spiritual guidance as her driving force in every facet of her life. She just delivers the messages as they come, helps artists through channeled guidance and has built their entire business by adhering to her "knowing" what was required to help all connected to the LBS Music Group.

Shaza also believes that "Blessings" is her best album to date and many agree. It was a project of pure love, created over a decade and her new single is typical of her ingrained belief system, that "How We Love Before We Leave" is all that really matters in this lifetime.

This 14 track album features 12 personally channeled original songs including the 5 hit singles already lifted, plus one hymn and one of her favourite classic country songs of all time, a female version of "The Cowgirl Rides Away". The collection is brilliant! It is a rarity that every song on an album is worthy of single status, this is one such album! Congratulations Shaza, Lindsay and all the LBS Team on an incredible album!
