

Amy Ryan - Walking against the wind

Verse 1:

theres a winding path stretching through the valley

its like a line connecting you and me at both ends we are walking slowly to eachother

verse 2:

we should be getting closer after all this time folling the fence line through the day and dark but the wind keeps blowing, blowing you further from my mind

pre:

But where not running to each other just moving away from fear

Chorus:

were on the road to losing love we're walking against (2x)

its like we're going nowhere fast we're walking against the wind

walking against, walking against the wind

verse 3:

the veiw from above does'nt show the little changes the heavy weight that's hiding way in the hills memories that ricochet from when you were apart of me

verse 4:

the little things that meant the most to both of us distance growing to strong breaking our hearts our warmth is now fading, fading faster than my jeans

pre:

But where not running to eachother just moving away from fear

Chorus:

were on the road to losing love we're walking against (2x)
its like we're going nowhere fast we're walking against the wind
walking against, walking against the wind

Instrumental:Chorus:

were on the road to losing love (STOP) we're walking against (2x)
its like we're going nowhere fast we're walking against the wind walking against, walking against the wind where walking against, walking against walking against the wind
