Merilyn Steele - Making Memories

'Making Memories' is the title single of the forthcoming album by Sydney artist, Merilyn Steele.

It's an upbeat, positive song with a summery country vibe.

It speaks about letting people and things of the past go in order to move on with life. After going through several traumatic life events in close succession including losing her long time partner during lockdown, she is speaking from experience.

"Of course we will always treasure memories of loved ones but I've learned it's important to pick up and carry on with life, making new memories as we go".

All songs on the album are composed by Merilyn, both lyrics and music.

Produced and mastered by Michael Carpenter with all instruments played by both Michael and Merilyn.
