

Love Was Lyrics by Kym Watling
If love was a horse I've just been thrown,

Hit the ground and rolling

Dust in my mouth from the gravel road

Why do I feel this way, why do I feel this way

If love was a dog it would bury my bones, Bury them in the garden

If love had a voice it would shatter a stone

Why do I feel this way, why do I feel this way

CHORUS And the horse, it gallops on without you

And the dog, it finds another bone

And the voice, it cries out far behind you

And the heart, it beats alone

If love had a heart it would leave me alone With no plan of returning

If love ever leaves it will never come home

Why do I feel this way, why do I feel this way

If love had a mind it would show me the way To stop this fire burning

If love had the time it would never be late

Why do I feel this way, why do I feel this way

If love was a horse I've just been thrown, Hit the ground and rolling

Dust in my mouth from the gravel road

Why do I feel this way, why do I feel this way

Why do I feel this way, why do I feel this way

Why do I feel this way, why do I feel this way
