

Kelly Hamilton – Taken (LYRICS)

Is this bar stool taken
In the corner of the room, you slide your breath is breaking
Tangled regret painted on your face you're faking
I'm not mistaken
Is this bar stool taken

It's not a kind awakening
When your ruled by the mess you've been making
You're headline news wrong conversation
Your fascination
Is this bar stool taken

So let it go
All the fear and shame you hide
There's no time now left to tell your lies
Or compromise
Is this bar stool taken

I know you feel it
Love was so blind but you didn't even try to reel it Laying down reasons but you didn't want me to see it
You're so conceited
Is this bar stool taken

Your reputation
Is clouded by the drink you've been tasting
Washed down by the path you've been chasing'
No destination

Is this bar stool taken

So let it go

All the fear and shame you hide

Or compromise

Is this bar stool taken

And I played by the rules

but I ain't nobody's fool just the same

And when you lay down to sleep does your conscience feel the pain

Yeah

So let it go

All the fear and shame you hide

Or compromise

Is this bar stool taken

Go on and let it go

Don't break the rules

Just play it safe

There's no time now to hesitate

It's all too late

Is this bar stool taken
